

Cliff Hendrickson, P.G.
Vice President
ECS Florida, LLC

Cliff Hendrickson is a leading expert in environmental due diligence and risk evaluation. He is Vice President for the Florida Subsidiary of ECS Florida and also serves as Principal Geologist in Orlando, Florida office. Cliff has worked in the environmental consulting business in Central Florida for 15 years. He has experience on various types of projects throughout Florida and in most of the United States.

Cliff grew up in Maitland and now lives in College Park. He received his undergraduate and Masters degrees in Geology from Florida State University. He and his wife KC enjoy traveling, family time and most things related to the water!